

Veeva Vault for Life Sciences Companies

An end to end services portfolio for your Veeva Vault solutions

As the Veeva Vault platform continues to grow its global client base, more companies are reaching out to vendors who can support their end-to-end program needs. fme provides a broad set of business and technology support services that allows clients to simplify the deployment model, streamline the implementation process and manage the associated costs by minimizing the number of vendors engaged. With our Veeva Certified Professionals and a network of partners complementing our skill sets, we are well positioned to provide a comprehensive support model for our clients.

Advisory Services

We provide insight and knowledge to our clients on a best practice approach to deploying software platforms and the associated challenges and opportunities they need to consider.

Program Management

Benefit from our experience in managing content services platforms, technical implementations and data migrations across multiple project streams.

Business Process Engineering

Gain expert insight into process improvements from our experience supporting clients implementing solutions across Clinical, Regulatory/RIM, Quality and Manufacturing and commercial domains.

Change Management

To meet business, budget and schedule objectives, engage our highly experienced organizational Change Managers and take advantage from their mix of skills in business analysis, training, communication, project management and facilitation.

Deployment

Deployment activities are a key element to the program's success. fme assists you in key areas including business change management, end user training material development, transition meetings into support and the move to production.

Testing & Validation

Enhance your implementation process and reduce risks by leveraging our know-how in supporting the testing and validation process successfully.

Integration

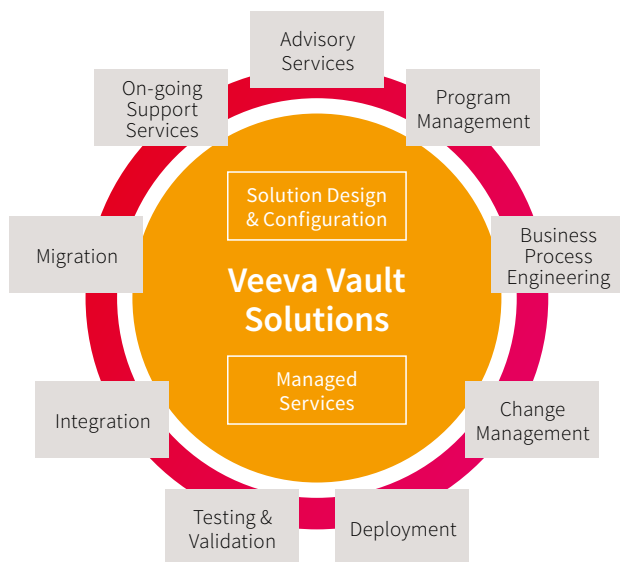

Integration is often a critical and complex component of the implementation process. fme's experience integrating between both common industry applications and custom-built solutions brings important benefits to clients.

Migration

Our migration-center software and expert services provide the bridge between your content in file or legacy systems and the Veeva Vault system. Save time and costs by pairing highly qualified Veeva Certified Professionals with unparalleled migration experience.

On-going Support Services

Safeguard your project success and increase user acceptance with our full set of post go-live support services including new end user feature reviews, ongoing training, upgrade analysis and data quality audits.

End-to-end services for your Veeva Vault solutions